Inside Your Congress

Imaginary Conversation

—by—
SAMUEL B. PETTEGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

The scene is laid in Washington, D. C. A labor leader is testifying before a congressional committee on behalf of the "Full Employment" bill. One of the Congressmen is as smart as the labor leader. The imaginary conversation proceeds as follows:

Congressman: So you believe that for every man out of a job, you want a job and haven't one, at the government should assume responsibility for providing him with a job?

Labor Leader: That's right.

Cong.: You believe that private industry and free enterprise should provide the jobs if they can?

L. L.: Sure, we are all for free enterprise.

Cong.: I take it that if private industry should fail to provide all the jobs, that the government would undertake enough public works to fill the gap?

L. L.: That's my sentiment exactly.

Cong.: That is, that the government would let contractors to build post-offices, dams or something of that kind?

L. L.: You couldn't say it better.

Cong.: Much as the government is now contracting to private industry? In other words, you are not advocating that the government hire the men and manage the work directly?

L. L.: No.

Cong.: In the war contracts, the government forced the contractor to agree to a maintenance of membership clause. You were for that?

L. L.: Absolutely!

Body of Boy Who Drowned at Lambertville

LAMBERTVILLE, N. J., Sept. 14—The body of Wilbur Stangle, 11-year-old, was found in a creek yesterday afternoon, near the opening of a culvert. The Stangle had been missing from his home since Tuesday afternoon, and when some of his clothing was found on Wednesday near a culvert leading beneath the railroad and canal into a small creek, searching parties were organized.

The body of the boy was found yesterday by Paul Horton, who had Stangle to his assistance. Horton thought the object some cinders was a stone until he touched it with an oar. Horton had been working night and day in an attempt to find the culvert. The searching parties had been directed by New Jersey state police and Lambertville police and were augmented by units of the Lower Bucks Marine Association.

That the body was found in such position near the opposite end of the culvert from where the lad's clothing was located leads to the belief that the body had been washed through the culvert.

ADVANCED RATING

J. Horace Cox, machinist's mate, 6, has been advanced to that rating from seaman first class. He is now stationed in the Philippine Islands.

A son was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. James Casperson, of Fernside, in Harriman Hospital.

STRIKE ANOTHER NAME FROM WAR CRIMINAL LIST AS JAPAN'S PEARL HARBOR' WELFARE MINISTER ENDS LIFE

Chikahiko Koizumi Takes Life by Traditional Hara-Kiri Ritual—Was No. 9 on Gen. MacArthur's Original List of 39 Persons Wanted for War Crimes and Treason

By Frank Robertson
TOKYO, Sept. 14—(INS)—Another name was written off Gen. Douglas MacArthur's war criminal list today with the suicide of Chikahiko Koizumi, minister of welfare in premier Gen. Hideki Tojo's "Pearl Harbor cabinet" which launched the Pacific war.

Supreme Headquarters announced that Koizumi took his own life last night at 11:25 p. m. at his suburban Tokyo residence and indications were that he died according to the traditional hara-kiri ritual.

Koizumi was No. 9 on MacArthur's original list of 39 persons wanted for war crimes and treason and he crossed his name off shortly after the Japanese Government offered to "aid" the supreme commander in the apprehension of fugitives.

The latest casualty in the self-administered "blood-bath" of Japanese leaders—shorn of their military power—came as Gen. MacArthur tightened his control of the Japanese press and struck a blow at what little power the present Nippon regime may have over the people.

The Supreme Commander directed the Japanese press to ignore government censorship and print the shocking details of horrible cruelties and acts of cannibalism indulged in by Japanese troops.

The Jap Domei agency announced that MacArthur had banned foreign shortwave Morse transmissions by the government propaganda unit—thus cutting off Japan's longtime planned appeal to the races of the so-called "Greater East Asia Co-Prosperity Sphere."

The Supreme Commander's latest moves were obviously designed to give the people of Japan their long-denied opportunity to view the results of the machinations of the military clique and such organizations as the Black Dragon Society at their worst.

Koizumi's suicide following that of Field Marshal Gen. Sugiyama, home island military commander, indicated that the once-powerful emperor, who ran Japan with a ruthless hand realize the personal significance of the war defeat and occupation policies.

It also was believed possible that Koizumi's "death of atonement" may have been suggested to him as was the case when Tojo failed immediately to commit suicide when he fell from power only to bungle his attempt later.

The attitude of the Japanese press to MacArthur's new order to print atrocity stories was not immediately made known. However, the Tokyo press in the past severely criticized the present government of Prince Naruhiko Higashikuni.

Early this week, one Tokyo paper blamed the government's "bureaucratic stupidity" for placing a ban on publication of the names of accused.

Eddington White Cross Group "Adopts" A Child

EDDINGTON, Sept. 14—At a meeting of the White Cross Society of Eddington Presbyterian Church, held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Elmer Myers, the organization agreed to "adopt" a little girl through the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children. The society had previously contacted the organization which in turn sent a picture and description of three-year-old Iris Oakley, of London, England. She is one of thousands of children who have suffered, she being bombed out of her home and has spent practically her entire lifetime in air raid shelters.

The following case history was read to the society by the group secretary, Mrs. Albert Brown: "Iris is a jolly laughing little girl despite all she has gone through. She is warm and lovable and everyone here has grown very fond of her. She is fair-skinned and has a large mop of fair hair. She has truly been a victim of war. She has been thin, cold and ragged most all of the three years of her life. She is a most worthy child and deserves help."

The women of the White Cross have been doing charitable work at home and abroad for the past 16 years.

The sponsors of the "adoption" are: Mrs. C. Burnley White, Mrs. Albert Brown, Mrs. William Simons, Mrs. Richard White, Mrs. Frank Simons, Miss Isabel Jones, Mrs. Howard Thompson, Mrs. Frank Deane, Mrs. Clifford Severns, Mrs. Otis Grupp, Mrs. William Massey, Mrs. George Sperling, Mrs. John McAleer, Mrs. William White, Mrs. Harold Ely, Mrs. Edward Vansant, Mrs. Wilbur Smith, Miss Reba Ellis, Mrs. Arthur Roberts, Mrs. Frank Haubert, Mrs. Albert Stiles, Mrs. Samuel Morrison, Mrs. Harry Mehlre, Mrs. William Welsh, Mrs. William Thomas.

In addition to the financial obligation assumed, the women will forward to Mrs. a five-pound box of clothing each month.

Report "Polio" Case In Doylestown Borough

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 14—Doylestown's first case of infantile paralysis in several years was reported yesterday to the Doylestown Board of Health by Dr. Bradford Green, of Buckingham.

The patient is Peggy Spratt, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spratt, 134 East Oakland avenue. The little girl is being treated at her parents home and according to the report the case is "a very mild one."

The child was quarantined by Health Officer Clarence H. Dannenbauer. The date of the onset of the case is September 10th, according to the physician's return to the health department.

All proper precautions have been taken by the Board of Health, which still advises parents to use their own good judgment about allowing or not allowing their children to attend meetings or public gatherings at this time.

Doylestown's schools are in session and the Board of Health members are of the opinion that under the existing conditions—and because every necessary caution has been taken—it will not be necessary to close the schools at this time.

The stricken Spratt child is at home with her mother, Mrs. Ida Spratt. Two other sisters, Betty, 15, and Margaret, 13, students at the Doylestown school, are at home under quarantine regulations. A brother, Robert Spratt, 19, has not been at home for several days.

REMOVE PATIENT

Mrs. Moe was removed from her Cornwells Heights home yesterday to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, in Bucks County Rescue Squad ambulance.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

High Ranking 'Japs' Ending Lives Now Total Five

Tokyo—Suicides of three more top Japanese leaders, including two members of the Tojo "Pearl Harbor" cabinet, were reported today as General MacArthur tightened his rule of Nippon.

Japanese reports said that Kunihiko Hashida, minister of education in the Tojo cabinet, and Gen. Tetsichi Yoshimoto, former acting chief of staff of the Japanese Army, had killed themselves.

American Eighth Army Headquarters listed the suicide of Chikahiko Koizumi, minister of welfare under Tojo.

They brought to five the number of high ranking Japs who sought by self-destruction to escape Allied justice in the last week. Tojo himself, who bungled his suicide attempt, is recovering from a self-inflicted bullet wound in the chest and Field Marshal Gen. Sugiyama shot himself to death. Hashida, Koizumi and Sugiyama were on MacArthur's list of war criminals.

MacArthur Defends Administration of Occupation

Tokyo—General MacArthur defended his administration of the occupation of Japan today and at the same time blasted the United States press for criticism of his alleged "soft policy."

The Allied Supreme Commander expressed his opinions in a special statement released to newsmen.

The statement said that criticism of the occupation policy had been noted "with some impatience" and pointed out that more than half of the Japanese forces are now demobilized and that the first phase of the occupation program would be completed by mid-October.

The first phase of the occupation must be based on military considerations and involve the deployment forward of our troops and the disarming and demobilization of the enemy," MacArthur declared.

"Safety and security require that these steps shall proceed with precision and completeness."

"The military phase is proceeding entirely satisfactorily."

"PERFECTLY SILLY"

President Truman opened a most interesting and important field of debate when he termed "perfectly silly" the charge recently made in Congress that the Labor Party in England is seeking American loans to finance the British program of National Socialism.

The only thing silly about the situation is the picture of the President of the United States attempting to dismiss the matter with two words.

The facts are obvious and speak for themselves. The Labor Party had promised during the British elections to nationalize both the Bank of England and the basic British industries in the near future, and ultimately the land itself.

The method by which this was to be done was made entirely clear. It was not to be by confiscation as in Germany, Italy and Russia, nor by using government restrictions to drive private ownership to bankruptcy, as appears to be the New Deal program in America.

British nationalization was to be done by outright purchase. The government planned to buy up the underlying ownership of the billions of dollars worth of property involved.

This is at least an honest and forthright method, but it would require a vast amount of money. The British government is even more heavily mortgaged than our own.

Where would the money be found?

That's where Uncle Sam comes in. The New Deal has been tossing billions of American resources about recklessly in foreign politics for a dozen years.

Why shouldn't we foot the bill of nationalizing British finance and industry?

Of course no one in his right mind would expect the British Labor Party to ask for the money in exactly those terms.

The official distress of the nation's spokesmen at the abrupt termination of Lend-Lease might lead to the suspicion that they had hoped to use that form of gift to finance National Socialism.

Now they are here seeking some other subsidization for their program.

They want American money—anywhere from $3,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 of it. They would prefer not having any nonsense about being expected to pay it back or even pay interest on it.

What they have in mind is a gift, not a loan; and it is not accurate to say they are asking it—demanding is the word.

In the flowery language of diplomacy a very direct threat is made about what they say they would do if the loan is refused.

They threaten a trade war with America.

The Stirling bloc, the intricacies of foreign exchange, and tight discriminatory barriers against American exports would be the weapons of such a trade war.

On the other hand, they offer President Truman aid and comfort in realizing the New Deal dream of "global free trade" if he will only pony up the needed Yankee dollars. Even this proposal has a string to it—the time when they would tear down their own discriminations against

Sends Envelope Bearing A "Tokyo Bay" Cachet

ANDALUSIA, Sept. 14—A letter from Robert W. Edelman, Jr., Y 3/c, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Edelman, 323 Walnut avenue, bears on the envelope a special cachet, indicating it was among the first mail to leave Tokyo Bay, Japan, following Japanese surrender to the Allies.

The special stamp of the Third Fleet, U. S. Navy, and the Japanese sketch and characters on same appear in green ink.

Yeoman Eddleman is stationed on the U. S. S. "Cumberland Sound," a seaplane tender serving with Admiral Halsey's third fleet. He has been on the "Cumberland Sound" since it was commissioned in August, 1944. He left his studies at Bensalem Township high school during his senior year to join the navy.

TOWNSHIP SCHOOLS GET FEDERAL MONEY

Checks Totaling $14,425.30 is Payment in Lieu of Taxes

CHECKS ARE DRAWN

Checks totaling $14,425.30 as payment in lieu of taxes on Bristol Terrace I and Bristol Terrace II war housing projects will be mailed shortly to the Bristol Township School District, according to word just received by Arthur Frank, Housing Manager, from John A. Kervick, Regional Director of the Federal Public Housing Authority.

Payments include $6,423.40 on Bristol Terrace I and $8,001.90 on Bristol Terrace II.

Mr. Kervick pointed out that payments in lieu of taxes approximate taxes which would be paid upon such projects if they were not legally exempt from taxation. However, he explained that the law permits appropriate allowances for expenditures made by the Federal Government for streets, utilities or other public services for such project.

SETTING UP NEW HEALTH PROGRAM IN SCHOOLS HERE

Physician Is To Examine All Pupils Once Every Two Years

DENTAL EXAMINATION

Grades 1, 5, 9 Selected For Physical Examinations
In Public Schools

A new health program with medical and dental examinations every two years is being set up in the public schools of Bristol by the Bristol School District.

Under the new program effective for the first time this year, Dr. Philip Tulin, M. D., has been named medical examiner and Dr. Kupiek, D. D. S., has been appointed school dentist. In addition Dr. Tulin will be the school doctor, the school district having previously had a doctor who made periodic examinations of the children.

The new program is in accordance with legislation enacted by the State Legislature at Harrisburg.

The Bristol school district will receive from the State $1.50 for each medical examination and $75 for each dental examination.

Miss Jean Phipps, Hulmeville, was recently named school nurse to assist in safeguarding the health of the pupils.

The medical examination will be given during the 1945-46 term to pupils of grades one, five and nine. It is announced. After this term, when it is presumed physicians will not have such a great tax on their time, examinations will be given alternate grades, with the change the following year to the other grades, meaning that all students will undergo examinations once in two years.

It has not been decided what grades will receive dental examinations this year.

Parental consent is secured for the examinations. Should parents desire that their family physician or dentist make the examinations they may arrange for such, but are required to fill in the school form, and then arrange for payment of examinations themselves.

Examinations are to be given school cafeteria employees annually, with all other school employees receiving such bi-annually.

The parochial schools are privileged also to take advantage of the new health program, it is stated.

Grand Jury Submits Report of Its Visits

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 14—The Bucks county Grand Jury for the September Sessions of court completed its work Wednesday with an inspection of the county buildings and the submission of a report that made the usual number of recommendations regarding proposed repairs and improvements.

The report, signed by the foreman, John Frick, of Chalfont, and Mrs. Ruth D. Crockett, of Buckingham, secretary, shows that the panel acted on 28 bills of indictment, of which 23 were returned true bills; two were found to be not true bills; one indictment was found to be true on the first and second counts not true on the third count; and another indictment was found to be true on the first count but not on the second.

A visit to the Bucks County Prison brought the following comment in the report: "We found everything in excellent condition, and as usual, commend the warden and his staff for their efficiency."

For the County Home, the Grand Jury recommends the installation of an elevator and the building of a sun porch. "Everything else was found clean and in a sanitary condition."

The Grand Jury suggested that more space be made available in most of the offices of the Bucks County Administration Building; that the walls be repainted and that new rugs be purchased for some of the offices.

Two storm windows were recommended for the east side of the Orphans' Court office and for the Probation Office.

The Grand Jury found that the office of the assistant County Superintendent of Schools in the Annex Building, needs more space; that the north wall of this building needs repairs and that the assembly room in this building is in need of paint.

A NEW NORMALCY

The average citizen probably has a fairly definite idea of what would satisfy him as a permanent "normal" state of things for America. It would pardonably be based upon his personal interests and ambitions. But most of the great body of Americans realize that no matter how sincerely they might yearn and strive for a restoration of conditions and comforts that were disturbed by a war, they could not be won back in a hurry.

Historians of this latest war period can hardly describe it as a time of confusion and indecision. The unforeseen and unpredictable, like the passing of the Presidency from Roosevelt to Truman, is the finest possible evidence of the soundness of the principles upon which the nation is founded. There has been a long line of demonstrations of the fact that the U. S. A. is created of vigorous, healthy timbers.

Persons who like to speculate upon the idea of a "normal" state are not likely to agree upon a time when the nation's innumerable divergent interests could be summarized under one general standard. The middle-aged and elderly may enjoy living over again years when the pace was slower, but even they might hesitate to call them back. The era without electricity, inside plumbing and the car at the door may not have lost its charm.

But many habits, well established in the American way of life—quiet evenings at home and neighborly visiting and the like—might prove a great bore if they could be wrought again into the tempo of living. It is doubtful whether the young men and women who have served in the armed forces and its auxiliaries would be enchanted with such a "normal."

The idea of a new normalcy is not entirely fantastic. Much that has been learned in the war years becomes instructive material for postwar planning. The ideal of a new normalcy can not be ordained by mass conventions or by law-making bodies, state or national, but must be developed from a recognition of honest needs affecting the whole nation.

TIRE SCRAMBLE

There are reports that a scramble is on between communities in all parts of the United States for new tires. It is reported some tire rationing boards are approving every application for tires with the object of getting for their localities a large share of tires that will be made available before the lid is lifted entirely.

There are elements of home town pride in this scramble. The tire rationing board that sticks to the letter of rationing edicts may face criticism from its constituents because it let other boards out-jockey it.

In addition to nylon hose and girdles, the ladies, it seems, are to have their old jobs in the kitchen again.

Chinese want the Jap navy, which illustrates how acute is the shortage of scrap iron in China.

Meats Are Practical Popular For Parties

easy, practical, company buffet spread — take advantage of the ready-to-eat meats market, suggests Jessie E. home economist. These are popular for their taste, moderate in cost, and furnish approximately the nutritional values as fresh meats.

A variety of different cold meat is available — the ready-to-eat sausage (such as bologna, liver salami, and summer sausage), any number of prepared meats. A varied assortment of delicious meats may be on a platter or tray, along with fresh vegetables, crackers, cheese, or cold sandwiches. It is decorative and alluring — perfect high-light for a party.

Two suggested menus, which may be varied as you choose, include a hot dish; the features sandwiches with meats. Either one is a full

TOMATO JUICE WHYS
Mary Jacoby Fleetham
(Economics Representative) widely popular of home-economics is that from tomatoes.
They can be processed in a boiling-water bath. Home canners sometimes have questions to ask, and here are some put to the home canning specialist.

Q. Why does my home-canned tomato juice sometimes separate?
A. Some separation is normal because the pulp is heavier than the light-colored juice so settles below it in the jar. The finer the sieve used for straining the juice, the less the pulp will settle. Too much or too little heat may cause the solid part of the tomatoes to settle, so follow heating directions carefully. If pulp does settle, just shake the jar before pouring out juice.

Q. If tomato juice is packed hot, why need it be processed in a water bath canner?
A. The chances of keeping are much better. Bacteria or yeasts in the air may get into the juice at the time jars are filled, and if these are not killed by further heating, the juice may spoil.
Q. Does home-canned tomato juice have as much food value as tomatoes?
A. The vitamin C in juice and canned whole tomatoes is approximately the same. Some vitamin A and other nutrients may be lost when seeds and pulp are discarded.

Q. Does heating the tomatoes before straining juice save vitamins?
A. Tests have shown that the easiest way of preparing the juice is the most saving of vitamin C. This is to simmer the tomatoes until the juice begins to flow. Sieve while the tomatoes are hot. Reheat just to boiling. Then add a teaspoon of salt per quart of juice if desired. Pour into hot jars at once and process for 15 minutes.

Q. Does a metal mill or sieve used in straining tomatoes destroy vitamin C, and should a cloth bag be used?
A. For practical purposes a metal juice extractor is satisfactory unless some copper or iron is exposed. A bag would hold back so much good red pulp that the juice pressed out would be weak and pale.

are common during the summer. These stains should be removed promptly from clothing or other textiles while they are easy to take out.
All fruit stains are easier to remove when they are fresh and wet than if allowed to dry. This is particularly true of peach and red or purple berry stains. These stains are set by soap and may change color. If the stain is on white or colorfast washable material, stretch the fabric tightly over a bowl and pour boiling water from the tea kettle over the stain. Pour the water from a height of 3 or 4 feet so it strikes the stain with some force. If fruit pulp is present, it may be necessary to rub the spot between applications of hot water. If the stain remains after several treatments, hang the garment in the sun to dry. Or the stain may be moistened with lemon juice and the material dried in the sun.

Grass stains, though easily acquired, are not difficult to remove. If the material is washable, hot water and soap may be used, rubbing the stain vigorously. Either or wood alcohol may be sponged on fabrics which are not washable.

The simplest way to remove mud from clothing is to allow it to dry, then brush carefully. Be careful that the brush is not too stiff or the fabric may be damaged. If brushing does not remove the stain and the fabric is washable, it may be washed in soap and water. However, on nonwashable fabrics, the stain may be sponged with wood or denatured alcohol.

Overseas for 28 months, Private Edward J. Martin, whose wife, Mrs. Jacqueline Martin, resides at 350 Jefferson avenue, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Martin, Sr., live at Lock 1 in Bristol, Pa., is now stationed at a Base in the Central Pacific. He wears the Asiatic Pacific Campaign Ribbon.

HEADQUARTERS, U. S. NAVAL FORCES IN EUROPE, London, England, Sept. 13 (Delayed)—Six British-built Patrol Gunboats loaned to the U. S. Navy in June, 1945, were exchanged at ceremonies held in H. M. Dockyard, Chatham, Kent, for six Destroyer Escorts which had been operated by the Royal Navy under lend-lease since 1943.

Following the ceremonies which commissioned the D. E.'s as U. S. Navy ships, American bluejackets transferred their personal gear and ship's stores from the British gunboats.

One of the men is Lawrence P. Stewart, 20, Signalman, Second Class, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Stewart, Rodgers Road, R. F. D. 2, Bristol, Pa.

He was a crew member of the USS Tenacity, flagship of the Patrol Gunboat flotilla. He is now aboard the USS Grindall, commissioned today as the flagship of the Destroyer Escort flotilla.

The U. S. Navy crew were unanimous in describing the British P. G.'s as well-built and seaworthy vessels, but uncomfortable, and all were glad to be transferring to an American ship with its more livable crew accommodations.

The Tenacity, along with nine other P. G.'s in the group, saw service on anti-submarine patrol in the West Atlantic. The Tenacity also served with the weather patrol off the coast of Greenland. She shared in one sub sinking.

The Royal Navy used the D. E.'s for convoy work. The D. E. group was credited with five sub sinkings, and following the German surrender, they were used for escorting surrendered Nazi subs to Allied bases.

Tells of His Hobby In Buying Old Cars

member of the club, told of the Antique Car Club of America, with which he is affiliated. This club has about 250 members in the Philadelphia area, and they are the owners of about 300 old automobiles.

One of the most enthusiastic members, said Mr. Bishop, is James Melton, the operatic tenor, who used his efforts to get Connecticut to build a $100,000 museum in which to place old automobiles. Construction of the museum, said Mr. Bishop, will be started in the near future.

Another enthusiastic member of the club is Atwater Kent, and Mr. Bishop told how at a recent musicale in Philadelphia Mr. Kent requested Mr. Melton to sing one of his favorite numbers, and invited the singer to see his old automobile.

biles the next morning. Upon Mr. Melton's arrival, Mr. Kent presented him a $15,000 Minerva-Knight of very old vintage.

Mr. Bishop expects to drive to the next meeting of the Lions club in a reconditioned and rebuilt 1914 Buick. He announced that next Spring a session of owners of old automobiles will be held in Ford Museum, Detroit. The owners will drive their cars to the conclave in person.

Approximately 40 members attended the meeting, which was in charge of President Carl Voth. Vincent Turner introduced as his guest Ralph Slawson, of the U. S. Navy.

Announcement was made of the picnic for members and their friends to be held at the home of Inno, Cemo, adjoining the Warrington Inn, on Sunday afternoon, September 16th.

Singing was directed by Irvin L. MacNair and defense stamps were awarded to Howard Holbert and Alvah Clarence.

Adolph Purvey, Doylestown, who was a member of the armed forces during the evacuation of Dunkirk, will be the guest speaker at the next meeting on Tuesday evening, September 25.

Victory Parade To Be Held At Doylestown

fire companies, some of them from Montgomery county, will take part. Because of the anticipated length of the line of march, it was decided to extend it to the Catholic church, instead of turning north on Church street as had been arranged previously.

Announcement was made that a contingent from the Willow Grove Naval Base, including a number of WAVES, will participate. A number of State Police will be on hand to head the parade. They may be mounted.

Musical organizations will include the Doylestown Band, the band of Doylestown High School, and Citizens' Band, Quakertown.

Prior to the parade, which will form on East Court street at seven o'clock, a brief memorial service will be held on the Court House steps, where seats will be reserved for the Gold Star fathers and mothers. During that service vocal selections will be rendered by a quartet, and brief remarks will be made by a County Seat clergyman.

At the conclusion of the parade a block dance will be held in Monument Square. Music will be furnished for the dance by a group of local young people.

The parade headquarters, which will be in the Administration Building, will be open at 6:30 o'clock.

22 Assemble for Meeting Of Rohm & Haas Circle

The first meeting of the season of Rohm & Haas Sewing Circle was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. John Simpkins, Edgely. Twenty-two members were present. Business was followed by a social hour and refreshments. The other hostesses were Mrs. Reed Lang, Mrs. Robert Weldman and Mrs. William Sharkey.

The new officers for the year are: Mrs. Reed Lang, president; Mrs. William Michalsky, vice-president; Mrs. William Sharkey, secretary; Mrs. Robert Winton, treasurer.

Thieves Practically Steal Entire Automobile

Two mean thieves Wednesday night worked out on the automobile of Abraham Mann, 278 Hillcrest avenue, Morrisville, and when they had finished left only the chassis.

They jacked the car up with cement blocks and rocks, removed three of the wheels and tires, which were brand new, but left the fourth one, because the tire was not so good.

The car was parked on the lawn in front of the home with a porch light shining on it during the night. No one in the household heard anything out of order. A search is being made by Chief of Police Harry Christ.

Receives Letter Bearing Special Surrender Stamp

From Leonard D. Simons, G. M. 3/c, of 219 Street, and who is now on the "Missouri," William Terneson, of 534 Linden street, has received a letter bearing the special stamp marking the surrender of Japan.

Simons, who entered the Navy on June 23, 1943, has been on the "Missouri" ever since it was commissioned, wrote in part:

"August 31, 1945, Tokyo Bay.

"Hi, Uncle Bill:

"Here we are, Stackhouse and I, sitting here and talking about old times, and he remembers you. So I thought I would write you a few lines. There really isn't much I can say that you haven't heard. I guess, but I'll try anyhow. The main reason for this letter is that on the outside a special stamp is going to be put on the envelope, indicating the surrender of Japan, and I thought you may like to keep the envelope as a remembrance. Every man is allowed to write five letters which will be stamped. After the letters have been stamped it will be destroyed.

"Well, enough about the stamp. I guess you are mostly interested in Tokyo Bay itself. Well, to begin with, the bay itself is quite large and well protected on all sides by large mountains. The mountains and countryside made somewhat of a pretty picture, and it's hard to believe how modern and well-built places are here in Tokyo Bay. The Yokosuka Naval Base, which you have heard quite a lot about, is large and well equipped.

"They have cranes which are used in ship-building, which are larger than any we have in the United States. They have up to date automobiles and machinery, and their roads and highways are well-built, resembling those of New Jersey. A famous battleship, the 'Nagato,' can be seen from our ship, which was one of the Japanese prizes. A little ways up cities can be seen.

"The first two days we spent in 'Sagami Bay,' and it was there that we got our first look at the famous volcanic mountain, Mt. Fujiyama. It was just as it's been pictured in books and papers. It really looks good. . . .

"As always, 'LEN.'

Re-Elect Mrs. J. Lowris Cheerful Workers Pres't

NEWPORTVILLE, Sept. 14—The Cheerful Workers of Newportville Community Church held a meeting at the home of Mrs. H. Backhouse on Wednesday evening. After Scripture reading by the hostess, Mrs. J. Lowris led in prayer and all joined in the singing of hymns.

Mrs. John Lowris was re-elected president; Mrs. Clifford N. Ingraham, vice-president; and Mrs. Fred Wimmerberger, secretary and treasurer.

Plans were made for an entertainment and social to be held in the church on Oct. 13. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Erny on Sept. 26. Refreshments were served.

HULMEVILLE

Covers were arranged for the following at a luncheon conducted by the Neshaminy Methodist Bible Class at the home of Mrs. John Hunsberger on Wednesday afternoon: Mrs. Ashbel Buckman, Mrs. Roland Scribner, Mrs. Edward Davis, Mrs. Flagg, Mrs. Uwellan Miller, Mrs. E. D. Atter, Mrs. Horace C. Cox and Mrs. Hunsberger.

Garvin Peffer, of the Langhorne high school faculty, is now residing at the home of Mrs. E. W. Martindell.

A top coating of stone and tar has improved the condition of Neshaminy street.

Two oil burner units have been ordered by Neshaminy Methodist official board for installation in the heaters for the main auditorium and the Sunday School section of the edifice. It is expected the installation will be cared for within the next month.

Mrs. Horace C. Cox paid a visit on Tuesday to her sister, Mrs. Harry Boylan, at Haddonfield, N. J.

With Miss Grace H. Illick presiding, 20 members of the Methodist Ladies Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. Samuel Everett, Middletown Township, on Tuesday evening. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Samuel K. Faust. Some special Christmas work was planned by the women. Refreshments were served by the co-hostesses, Mrs. Everett and Miss Illick.

American goods is pushed off into the far distant future. The British are too realistic on the subject of tariff and other protections of their standards of living to be fooled by the illusions of our own State Department.

President Truman says it is "perfectly silly" to claim all this spells a request for America to finance British Socialism.

But why is the charge silly?

True, the money would be used indirectly, not directly, for socialism—the loan would simply free other resources in Britain for such use.

It is precisely as if a child, wishing to buy a worthless toy with a quarter intended for a copybook, should demand another quarter—not for the toy, of course, but for the notebook!

A great deal of fancy language and argument is going to be advanced to try to defend the president's plan.

We will be told that, just as the New Dealers insist Lend-Lease was not a "handout" but an investment, so the new "loans" would be a further "investment"—this time not in victory but in peace.

The gifts would be an investment, of course—but an investment in Communism.

How much of YOUR money do you want used for such a purpose?

The amount suggested for British loans figures out to between $20 and $40 each for every man, woman and child in America.

It will come out of the taxes you pay—will go to raise those taxes by the amount involved.

If you are the wage earner of a family of five, do you wish to pay $100 to $200 extra to the government to help the British Labor Party keep its political promises?

President Truman's statement that the British have every right to adopt whatever form of government they wish is all right as far as it goes.

But why ask the American people to finance their blunders?

Third of Students Are Non-Residents

dents and 352 reside at other points, a percentage of 33.4 of the total student body having their homes elsewhere than in Doylestown.

Due to laws enacted at the last session of the Legislature, the rates of tuition for the school year starting this month have not yet been approved by the Department of Education at Harrisburg. During the previous year, 1944-45, the tuition rate for the non-resident high school student was $100 for the 10 months period. The students in the 7th and 8th grades paid $65 and those in grades 1 to 6, $56 for the school period, the total income to the school from tuition approximating $30,000 for the year.

According to the report of the supervising principal, there will be very little change in the tuition rates for this year.

Here and There In Bucks County Towns

The structure, which was located near the Lutheran church, contained a large amount of machinery and crops harvested last year.

Adjoining the barn was a frame wagon shed, and this was partially destroyed. In the latter building were also a large amount of machinery, lumber, harness and other farm equipment. Some of this was saved, but a threshing machine, mowing machine, gasoline engine and cultivator in the main barn were included in the loss, which has not been determined, but which is partly covered by insurance.

Although the offering of poultry at the combination sale conducted by the Rice brothers, Tuesday, was much heavier than usual, the demand at the sale, which was attended by about 600 persons, was not very strong. Prices, said a member of the firm, seemed to have favored the buyers. The sale of poultry amounted to $1738.87, and proceeds of the entire sale amounted to $1996.65.

Interest in the disposal of the hogs, however, was rather keen, and of the 154 head offered, 132 were sold at the following prices: brood sows, $514.25 per hundred; fat hogs, $15 per hundred; seed hogs, $24.50 to $30 each; shoats, $6 to $30 each, and small pigs, $1.55 to $10 each.

Strike Another Name From Japanese War Criminal List

used war criminals in the domestic press.

The first published articles under MacArthur's plan were to relate the wanton killings and sadistic beatings inflicted by Jap troops on American prisoners of war in the Philippines and others were to tell of cannibalism practiced by the Japs in New Guinea.

The Japanese government's offer to apprehend 34 Jap fugitives, including the late Koizumi and seven members of the Black Dragon Society, was apparently an attempt to gain prestige, in showing apparent co-operation with MacArthur's move against those responsible for the war.

Kolzum's suicide was the first development of the offer.

As MacArthur directed the operations of his vast occupation forces he took the time to warn the Japs that he would brook little delay if their offer did not bring quick tangible results.

On the occupation front, more troops were pouring into the Tokyo area for redeployment to assigned sectors of the Jap homeland. Such familiar battle units as New England's veteran 43rd Division were taking their places alongside the advance forces which paved the way for mass occupation.

The U. S. Fifth Marine Division was preparing to occupy the Sasebo naval base on western Kyushu with landings scheduled for September 22nd.

Release of war prisoners continued to be the main chore of naval landing parties and many famous and long-imprisoned heroes of the early days of the war such as Lt. Col. James P. Devereaux were scheduled for quick evacuation.

Demonstration In Floral Arrangement Given Club

The Women's Club of Bristol Terrace held a business meeting Wednesday evening, in the community building at the Terrace.

Special guest for the evening was Mrs. Walter W. Pitonka, chairman of conservation and garden committee, Bucks Co. Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Pitonka gave an interesting talk on flowers, and demonstrated various types of arrangement.

Further plans were discussed for a bazaar to be held in November.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mary Childs and Mrs. Nellie Eager.

HIBBS WINS HONORS WITH STICK IN THE SUBURBAN LEAGUE

Badenhausen Outfielder Has
An Average of .466
For the Season

VISITS PLATE 58 TIMES

Hansen Finished Second With A Season Average of .459

With an average of .466, Leo Hibbs, outfielder for the championship Badenhausen team, won the batting honors of the Bristol Suburban League in the recently completed season. Leo stepped to the plate 58 times and delivered 27 hits.

In winning the crown, Hibbs beat out a team-mate, Jack Hansen, who finished the season with a .459 average. Freddie Hibbs, brother of Leo, and who played the second half with Badenhausen, had an average of .514 but his mark wasn't considered because he did not participate in enough games. Two other Badenhausen players finished in the following positions to enable the Badies to dominate the first five posts in the averages. They were Paul Dean and Glenn Cobleigh. Harry Munster, Badenhausen hurler, finished eighth in batting.

"Walt" Hauser, catcher for the Rohm & Haas nine, was sixth in the batting list with 27 hits in 65 times at bat for a .415 average. The Schutte-Koerting team did not place any player in the selected ten.

Use Want Ads For Results.

"This Fall should produce some excellent bass fishing as the streams are now in better condition than they have been at this time of the year during the past several seasons."

Concerning small game . . . reports from every section of the County indicated we are in for some good shooting in November. More game being destroyed . . . Game Protector Clarence Mumbauer stated that since the 35-mile speed limit has been lifted considerably more game is being killed on highways by autoists.

Rail birds still scarce . . . Nick Rubino and I poled the marshes in back of Florence Island last Saturday afternoon. The reeds are pretty well down. We jumped seven birds and got six (I missed one with both barrels). Saw plenty of ducks, mostly blacks and mallards. Also noticed some flights of teal moving Southward.

Some of the old-timers who have hunted on the River for years declare that the next change of moon, plus a northeast wind, will bring the railbirds.

Safety measure . . . on August 15 Governor Edward Martin issued the following statement:

"As we approach the beginning of another gunning season, which begins November 1st, it is appropriate that all sportsmen give serious thought to the promotion of safety in the use of firearms."

In order to center public attention upon this important subject I have designated the week of October 22nd to 29th inclusive as HUNT SAFELY WEEK in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I earnestly request the co-operation of all who enjoy the excellent sport which our fields and woods offer in making 'Hunt Safely Week' a complete success, productive of lasting benefit in the elimination of carelessness and the reduction of accidents to the lowest possible minimum."

Bass fishing . . . during the past two weeks the Canal has been providing some fine sport for the bass fishermen, according to all reports. Have talked with a dozen local anglers and all have been catching fish.

Cong.: And the check-off?

L. L.: Certainly!

Cong.: Well, let's hold it down. Assume some unemployment and that the government goes into a public works program to provide jobs. In that case would you favor the government requiring contractors to enforce a maintenance of membership clause?

L. L.: Sure, we had it during the war and this is a war against depression.

Cong.: If I were to offer an amendment to the "Full Employment" bill providing that no contractor handling public works should enforce a maintenance of membership clause or a closed shop, would you be in favor of the amendment?

L. L.: We would oppose the amendment.

Cong.: But suppose the majority of the House and Senate disagreed with you and wrote such an amendment into the bill. Would you pressure Congress as hard as you are now doing to pass the bill?

L. L.: Well, naturally, Congressman, you wouldn't expect us to be enthusiastic for a bill which put a stamp of government opposition to the closed shop or maintenance of membership.

Cong.: Well to be flat about it, suppose Congress adopted such an amendment. Would you then favor the final passage of the bill? Please answer "Yes" or "No."

Here the labor leader coughs and chokes and conversation ends. It would, however, interest the country to know whether the real reason for the pressure on Congress for the "Full Employment" bill is to protect union treasuries, at the taxpayers' expense, against the threatened loss of their revenue due to cutbacks in the war munitions program; and to build up the labor unions and their political allies through public funds to an impregnable position over Congress and the people.

With more than 70% of the people still opposed to the closed shop, compelling a man to pay tribute for the right to work, and even with a majority of union members against the closed shop, this would be a fruitful inquiry to be made by some smart Congressman before putting Uncle Sam's head in the noose.

With over six billion dollars in government unemployment compensation reserves, and with states, cities and industries with another six billion dollars of resources available to tide over a period of unemployment, they would seem to be plenty of time for Congress to make this imaginary conversation real and get the answer to the last question.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

Fishing contest notes . . . some nice entries have been made to date in the annual fishing contest conducted by the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association for its members.

One division is now closed. That is the trout division which was won by Ernie Lawrence, Torresdale, with a 15-inch rainbow.

Top man at the present moment in the non-game fish division is Ewald Douglass, Hulmeville, with a 4 pound, 5 ounce catfish taken in the Neeshaminy Creek.

George Effring, Bristol, is leading in the bass division with a 3 pound, 8 ounce largemouth taken at Maple Beach.

The largest pickerel entered so far was one 18 1/2 inches long, weighing 1 pound, 11 ounces. It was caught by Howard Bailey, Bath Road, in Laurel Bend Creek.

The new salt water division of the contest is still begging for the first entry. It is just about time some entries were made in this division.

Notes of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs' meeting held in Doylestown on Monday last:
Delegates from eight clubs were on hand—Branch Valley, Bristol, Paledown, Morrisville, Edgely, Penn Manor, Newtown and Bucks County.
